

Building of the new school for Andaung Chenh, May 2009.

With a lot of people the work is steadily progressing

The last things to be done and the foundation for the building will be ready

Instruction given by the building co-ordinator to the workers

He knows very well how to handle the cement mixer

One can imagine the look of the class room already...

The Construction is well in progress now